

Steve Miller Band poster 1976 – Bob Masse “the meister of Vancouver rock memorabilia”, owner of Vancouver’s well-known Neptoon Records, which sells music, posters, and in particular, 1960s psychedelia. Masse was the most famous artist of that period and did psychedelic handbills for clubs and concerts in Vancouver including the popular venue of the Russian Community Centre located at 2114 West 4th Ave. The music venue became the centre of the hippie-hangout in Vancouver. Groovy.

Artistic Map of Vancouver by local artist Elena Markelova. Can you identify any of the Host Nation place names of the iconic areas/landmarks/neighbourhoods on the map? Ask one of the Volunteers for more information!

#kitswings has become one of cities best known landmarks. Created by Sandy and Steve Pell in 2017 the wings located at the corner of 4th and Burrard have quickly become the most instagrammable mural in the City.